

Taking Care of Your Floors

Regular cleaning is the key to keeping your wooden floors at its best. With Bona's Floor Care system, made especially for wooden floors, you just spray the floor and wipe it clean, easy and safe!

By following our step-by-step instructions on preventive care measures and daily floor care, your floor will retain its beauty for years to come.

1 General Floor Care Tips

- Use water sparingly while cleaning your wooden floors. Make sure to soak up liquid spills immediately as excessive water causes the floors to swell.
- Avoid wax, vinegar and "all-purpose" cleaners, since they dull the floor's finish.
- Do not let sand, dirt or grit build up. Vacuum or sweep your floors once every week.
- Place mats or rugs near doorways and in high trafficked pathways to trap sand and grit.
- Use protective pads or caps on furniture.
- Trim your pet's claws to help avoid scratches on the floor.

Residential Construction Performance Guidelines Consumer Reference Fifth Edition

Hardwood Flooring

11-3-1 Observation: Gaps exist between hardwood floor boards.

Performance Guideline: At the time of substantial completion of the project, gaps between hardwood floor boards should not exceed 1/8 inch in width.

Corrective Measure: The contractor will repair gaps that do not meet the performance guideline.

Discussion: Gaps appearing after installation may be caused by fluctuations in the relative humidity in the home. This is a common seasonal phenomenon in some climates and certain areas of the home that experience significant shifts of humidity. The consumer is responsible for maintaining proper humidity levels in the home.
