

Summer is almost here, and that means it's time to give homes in Boise ID a fresh new look. If you're ready to give your home a summer vibe, try one or more of these seasonal décor trends for 2023.

Bring the outside in.

Make your home feel summer-fresh by hopping on the biophilia trend. Decorate with potted tropical plants, fresh flowers, and nature-inspired décor. Use lightweight furniture made of natural materials like rattan and bamboo. Hang up art pieces or photographs depicting plants, animals, or natural landscapes. Replace heavy draperies with lighter window coverings, and open them so you can see plants and the sky.

Create a beachy vibe.

White walls make a great backdrop for summer décor. They reflect lots of light reminiscent of coastal locations. Bring in soft, cooling colors like seafoam, sky blue, and sandy tans. Decorate with driftwood and shells. Add beachy wood tones in weathered gray or light brown. The overall feel should be relaxed and casual.

Go nautical.

Nautical is related to coastal, but it has a different vibe based on bold colors and patterns. Think bright, saturated blues, reds, and sunny yellow. Crisp blue and white is a timeless combination that's more popular than ever right now. Bring in striped patterns to make the most of the color contrast.

Make the most of outdoor space.

Outdoor "rooms" are all the rage. Decide how you want to spend your time outside, then create areas for outdoor seating, dining, and cooking. Choose quality furniture to make your outdoor rooms as comfortable and functional as your indoor spaces.
